

The Innovative Paklite™ Shipping System

As a floral grower, you are a fundamental part of a widely interconnected industry. Your focus should be on making sure you produce fresh, beautiful plants season after season – not on fretting over the cost, reliability, and usability of your product packaging. Our latest innovation was born from in-depth conversations with growers like you throughout the globe to help you focus on what you do best.

Introducing the Paklite™ Shipping System from Flopak: the first of its kind within the industry to save on freight costs, deliver more product, and streamline the packaging process from grower warehouse to retail location. Paklite™ offers a convenient way to ship floral packaging products cost-effectively to growers, using lightweight, durable tubes to ship and store more product, in less space, with less heft, and more protection.

Here's how Paklite™ is transforming the way florals are brought to market:

Zero wasted space and simple dissemination. Lightweight, mobile tubes ready for packaging.

Strong, durable exoskeleton of compressed fiber board protects pot covers during shipment

Lightweight tubing allows grower warehouse workers of all strengths to transport more pot covers, with greater ease

More pot covers per sleeve reduces time wasted moving back and forth within the greenhouse

Significantly reduces the carbon footprint of growers

Ship up to 86,000 pot covers in a single pallet – up to a 327% increase over traditional pallet and box systems

Custom sizes available based on individual orders, needs, and requests

In our industry, we all grow together. Our Paklite™ Shipping System not only represents our dedication to partnership and innovation, but also our commitment to improving the floral industry as a whole. From growers to retailers, Paklite™ is changing the game at every level.

“Paklite™ has revolutionized the way we accept shipments, transport goods, and package our items.” - Dennis Cox, Mountain State Plants
